The 'unforgettable' of the trip:

- The charm of Algiers, with its kasbah, historic mosques and white French-style buildings
- The ruins of Tipaza overlooking the Mediterranean, and the Numidian tomb known as 'La Cristiana'
- The Tadrart, an incredible corner of the Sahara Desert on the border with Niger
- The "fairy chimneys" of Moul N'Aga and the red dunes of Tin Merzouga
- The magnificent rock art sites, notably that of La Vache qui Pleure
- An encounter with the Tuareg, the "blue men", in the vicinity of Djanet

The magic of Tadrart

ALGERIA

The South-East Algerian is home to that part of the desert considered the most spectacular and fascinating of the immense Sahara. A region of extraordinary beauty with breathtaking landscapes of sand and rocks, and a real open-air museum of rock art.

An exciting itinerary that starts from the Djanet Oasis, the main caravan center at the foot of the Tassili n'Ajjer plateau, and leads us into an enchanted world. A dream made of sand with a thousand shades, shaped by the wind in majestic fiery red dunes, or flattened in immense straw expanses, from which rock faces of the most surreal shapes rise. Arches, spires, pinnacles, cliffs, oued, caves and gorges that hide within them the secrets of a thousand-year history, with paintings and rock carvings of extraordinary beauty. An ocean of sand and rock that at sunset is embellished with evocative chiaroscuro, giving images that will remain forever carved in memory.

In addition, on this special tour, you'll visit the kasbah of Algiers and the Roman sites of Tipaza and Caesarea.
