Total solar eclipse in Timgad

ALGERIA

A special trip to witness the total solar eclipse on 2 August 2027 in Timgad.

A journey back in time through the green Atlas Mountains and the crystal-clear Mediterranean coast, into the ancient lands of Mauretania and Numidia. Discover two of the most beautiful and fascinating Roman provinces in Africa, amongst archaeological remains of extraordinary beauty, where you can still wander alone amongst the ruins.

Algeria's Roman sites, all UNESCO World Heritage Sites, are every bit as impressive as the more famous ones in Libya. On this itinerary, we'll discover the splendid buildings of Djemila, 'the beautiful', the ruins of Timgad – a colony founded by Emperor Trajan in AD 100 – and Lambaesis, the ancient home of Legio III Augusta. On the coast, the archaeological sites of Tipaza and Caesarea, which preserve splendid mosaic-adorned villas right by the Mediterranean, and Algiers, with its beautiful colonial buildings overlooking the harbour and the bustling streets of the Kasbah with their whitewashed houses.
